JONCKHEERE
on the move

The 041, or "public transport revisited". Jonckheere has developed this environment-friendly 041 bus for urban and sub-urban transport. It is excellently suited to shorter distances and can carry 97 passengers.

The clever use of synthetic and composite materials makes the 041 a durable vehicle with low fuel consumption. It has a very tight turning circle, and produces hardly any exhaust fumes. Passengers will appreciate the low boarding height, wide front door and the ample leg room. From requesting a stop to regulating the temperature - it's all child's play with the 041.

Long-distance coach travel demands greater comfort. Enter the NEUILLY, a name synonymous with comfortable public transport. The NEUILLY is ideal for school trips and as a company or school coach. The vehicle has an entirely flat floor, but still offers ample luggage space. The ergonomically designed driver's cabin provides the driver with all the freedom of movement he requires, plus several added extras. To the passengers, the NEUILLY feels just like a touring coach - comfortable seats, plenty of leg room, air conditioning and much more seating than standing room. Depending on the users, the coach owner may wish to add a few extras. The NEUILLY is the perfect solution for anyone looking for a classy vehicle, for either private or public service.

At last - urban buses centred around the passenger. The 041 offers a high level of comfort for both standing and seated passengers. The anti-slip floor and easily accessible poles provide increased safety for standing passengers. Both seated and standing passengers have a panoramic view of the outside world.

No matter how low the outside temperature, the sophisticated heating and ventilation system guarantees a pleasant interior climate.

Even the driver will be impressed with the comfort of the 041. His cabin has a perfect heating and ventilation system. Thanks to the low windscreen, the driver has perfect road visibility. The instrument panel is a prime example of rational layout - all the controls are literally at the driver's fingertips. In short, the 041 and its users are on the same track.

A luxury touring coach doesn't have to be big to be beautiful. The proof lies in the AUTEUIL. It makes neither good economic nor practical sense to use a large coach for small groups of people. In such cases, it is worth knowing about the AUTEUIL. Its compact dimensions make it particularly pleasant to drive, but it has the same qualities as its big brother, the DEAUVILLE. The modular design means that the client can have a tailor-made vehicle. The luggage space is in proportion to the passenger capacity, while the driver will be delighted with the ergonomic design of the cockpit. The AUTEUIL - synonymous with cosy coach travel.

The Jonckheere MONACO offers a bird's eye view from a comfortable seat, with your bags tidily stowed away in the generous luggage space. The driver can devote his full attention to the road from the safety of his completely enclosed, ergonomically designed cockpit. The MONACO is fitted out according to the owner's specific requirements. For every company, its touring coach is the flagship of the fleet, which is why Jonckheere provides extra satisfaction for the 70 to 77 passengers on the MONACO.

"Dedication leads to victory"

(Catullus)

All the test reports in trade journals agree: the DEAUVILLE is the best touring coach on the market in terms of value for money. Its surprisingly low fuel consumption is an added bonus. The compact dashboard fits perfectly into the enclosed, ergonomically designed cockpit.

The DEAUVILLE adds a new dimension to coach travel. The low cockpit gives the passengers maximum visibility. Practical seats increase travel comfort, while the luggage space is kept to a maximum. Thanks to the coach's modular design, the owner can request whatever luxury extras he requires.

DEAUVILLE

"Conscious endeavour is character building"

(Ovid)

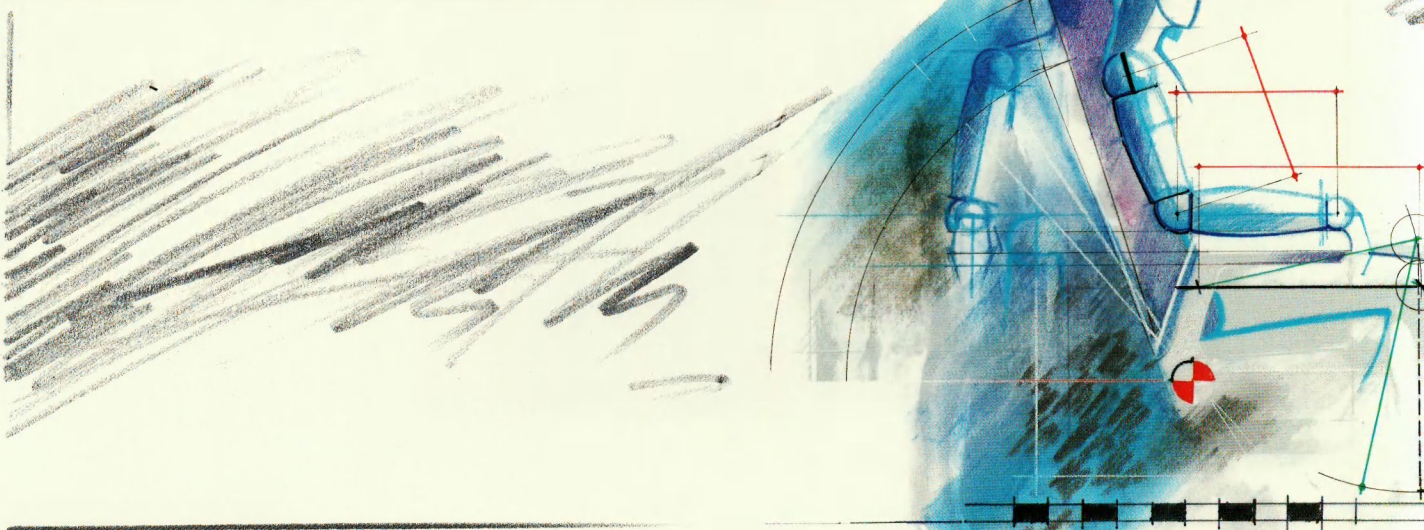

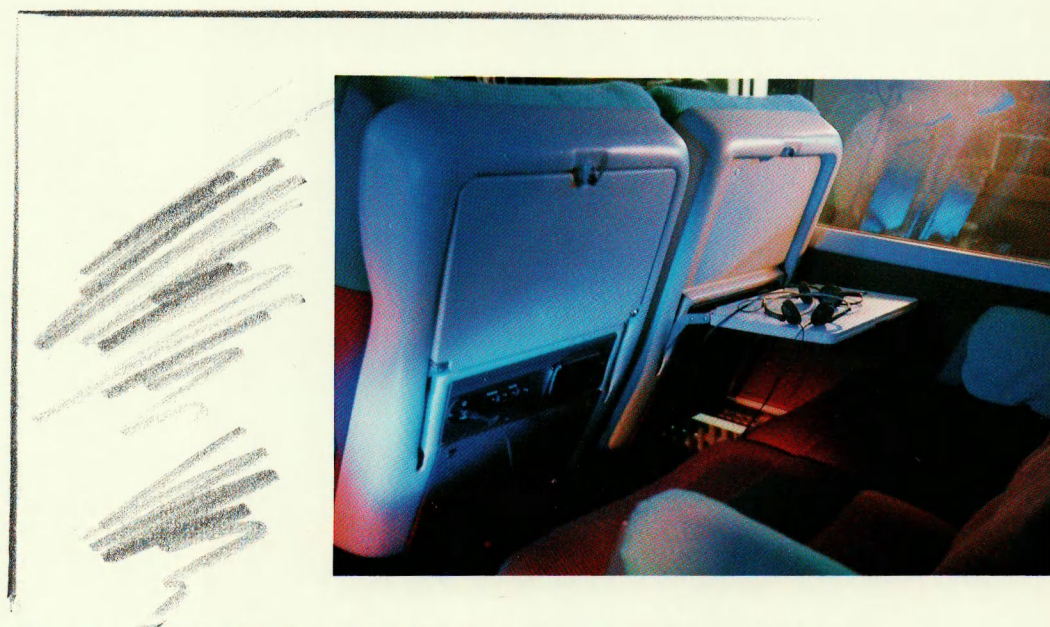

DEAUVILLE

From the outside, the DEAUVILLE is a gem; but the interior also offers the ideal combination of style, practicality and design. First and foremost, the passengers will appreciate the high level of seating comfort. The adjustable seats guarantee ample leg room and a comfortable journey while the driver and tour guide will find travelling in the DEAUVILLE a real pleasure. The entirely redesigned cockpit provides optimum user comfort, as well as giving the driver an excellent view of the traffic situation, thanks to the wide windscreen. He can adjust his seat to any height, and will find the stylish dashboard not only especially attractive, but also extremely practical.

A coach is an investment. The more rigorous we are for ourselves, the higher will be the profits of our clients and the freedom of their passengers. Which is what it's all about. For the passenger, one of the most important factors is the seat. All models provide the required seating comfort. Jonckheere's attention to detail means talking about seats, as well as inner fittings, sound system, visibility, freedom of movement, etc. Right from the basic design to the most sophisticated VIP fittings. Fitting a coach means dialogue between the owner and Jonckheere's very own designer. This exchange means that every one of our coaches achieves a high degree of individuality, which in turn not only improves the quality of the coach, but also its safety, comfort and the general driving pleasure of its users.

Jonckheere buses are put to the ultimate test in Ethiopia - rock hard roads and overloading. In Bermuda, salt, narrow roads and low speeds test the endurance of our buses. The Algerian police now have a suitable means of transport, while in Scandinavia our showpieces battle against snow and wind - the list is endless. Jonckheere is now at home all over the world. No matter how extreme and varied the circumstances, Jonckheere can adapt; because we are acutely aware of local circumstances, cleverly designing our product and providing extensive after sales service, we remain a world leader.
